“ You were the only grandparent that ever took the time out to have anything to do with us five grandkids, and your four great grandkids. I’m going to miss you, calling me late at night, you coming by and staying for hours talking to me, I’m going to miss you stay the night with me, I’m going to miss you playing with the grandbabies, I’m going to miss you helping me out when I need you, I’m going to miss everything about you. I know you’re in a better place, but I do wish you could be here with me. I love you deeply. Grandma and I know your great grandkids are going to miss you deeply. The two girls have been asking about you, I really don’t know what to say besides, you went home to be with Jesus, Dakota, and Desaray . ZZ been walking around my house hollering your name and looking for you , it breaks my heart you’re not gonna get to be around to see her grow up. But at least you got to meet her. I love you deeply grandmother, and one day I will see you again.... PS, those three nights you stay the night with me last month, was the best night I had. When I got off from work, ZZ walked in looking for you and she was upset because you weren’t here. I told her “grandma will be back next week to stay the night baby.” And I remember us calling you to talk to you on the phone that day.
